Dear CAOC Member,

I am pleased to announce that CAOC has officially endorsed the LawFinance Group, Inc as a financial services provider to our members and their clients.

Most banks do not understand your practice well enough to lend money against it. LawFinance does. The company was founded 11 years ago by attorneys who understand the nature of running a contingency fee practice. As the size and complexity of litigation has grown so have the costs incurred by trial attorneys. LawFinance provides financing to attorneys so that firms can meet the increasing financial demands of a trial practice, grow their firms and prepare cases like never before. They are also willing to finance those unusual, unique situations like class actions and mass torts. Now you do not have to use your after-tax dollars to adequately finance or expand your practice.

LFG also provides non-recourse financing to plaintiffs and trial attorneys with a money judgment on appeal before the appellate decision is rendered. If the case is ultimately lost, nothing is owed to LawFinance.

Our endorsement is recognition of the invaluable service LawFinance provides to trial attorneys and their clients as well as their integrity and the way in which they do business. All strategic decisions are left to the client and attorney, and there is no interference in the attorney client relationship.

For more information contact LawFinance at 800-572-1986 or visit them at www.lawfinance.com. They are knowledgeable, courteous and your call will be confidential.

Sincerely,

James Sturdevant
President, CAOC
